Good from the grain up!

Sustainably grown. Thoughtfully crafted. Perfectly prepared. We've got an independent streak a rice field wide. We geek out on little things like grains and important things like organic farming. And even huge things like the future of the planet. We create thoughtfully crafted products that are truly farm-to-table. When you see our family name on a package, it means we stand behind every grain every step of the way, from planting and harvesting to milling and packaging.
